

International staff

Here, you as a manager responsible for recruitment can find information you need when recruiting international employees.

You can turn to these pages for support in the different parts of the recruitment and introduction of international employees. Some of the information is aimed solely at you as a manager. Other parts are more aimed at the employee and are also available on Jönköping University's external website. It is important, however, that you as a manager gain an overview of all the information, since it is you who has the overall responsibility.

This information complements Jönköping University's recruitment process. Here you can find more information about the recruitment process: Recruitment and employment

Relocation

When recruiting international employees, you have the opportunity to purchase services from Jönköping University's contracted relocation company. They offer, among other things, migration and housing services as well as easy access to public authorities. For more details, click here.

Checklists

Checklists are available as support in the recruitment, introduction and termination of international employees.
