

1ST JIBS WORKSHOP ON EXTERNAL ENABLEMENT OF ENTREPRENEURSHIP

March 16th-17th, 2023 (lunch to lunch)

Jönköping International Business School

Apply here

<https://forms.gle/x8VizeTMhptrM3nm7>

An emerging stream of research focuses on how environmental changes, so-called external enablers, trigger, shape or enhance entrepreneurial activities. The first workshop on 'External Enablement of Entrepreneurship' provides a unique platform for researchers to engage in comprehensive discussion and knowledge sharing about the 'external enabler' construct and framework. The workshop brings together 'external enabler' experts and scholars interested in applying the framework to provide feedback on current research projects and learn how to position and develop research on external enablers. In addition, participants will have the chance to pitch early-stage research ideas and receive feedback on their current projects. The workshop contributes to Jönköping International Business School's profile on 'entrepreneurship in context' and is sponsored by the Media, Management and Transformation Centre (MMTC) and the school.

Speakers and Panel Guests

- Per Davidsson, Jönköping International Business School, Queensland University of Technology
- Sara Carter, University of Glasgow
- Philipp Schade, University of Gießen
- Friederike Welter, University of Siegen
- Andreas Kuckertz and Sebastian Hinderer, University of Hohenheim

Target groups

- Scholars interested in environmental changes and entrepreneurship
- Scholars that have new research ideas or work-in-progress research on 'External Enabler'

Program

- Keynotes
- Learning & Applying the External Enabler Framework
- Elevator pitches
- Paper presentations

Deadline and application

- Deadline: February 24th – you will receive a response until March 1st
- Format: Extended Abstract (600-800 words) for paper presentations, Abstract (150-200 words) for elevator pitches of research ideas
- Costs: Jönköping International Business School will cover the workshop costs. Participants are responsible for their travel and accommodation costs.